How does artifact strongbox work?

tl;dr: If you can afford to only fodder 4 star artifacts and are picky with what constitutes a good artifact the artifact strongbox feature increases the number of good artifacts you gain by up to 50% ! That could be nearly 90 free resin of good artifacts per day.

Should I use artifact strongbox If I don't use resin?

It can also be a good alternative if you don't plan on using resin for these artifacts. Do note that the Artifact sub-stats you will get from the Artifact Strongbox will still be randomized, similar to collecting them from the domains.

Can a dimensional transceiver transport energy or liquids?

EnderIO The Dimensional Transceiver can transport energy or liquids. There are config settings, what energy loss you want (percent reduction like TE or a fixed cost per Transceiver node or none at all). Transferring liquids costs energy per bucket, also adjustable in the config. Or you can switch the energy cost off there.

Are artifact boxes bad?

The artifact boxes are not bad, they free up space in can give good stuff in return, the problem was people's expectations. They wanted some guaranteed crit artifacts, and that's obviously not happening. I think the strongboxes are especially good for Gladiator and Wanderer's sets, since they cannot be farmed like Bloodstained and Noblesse sets
