

Title: Ireland electric vehicle market

Generated on: 2026-03-08 10:09:26

Copyright (C) 2026 ESAFETY SOLAR CONTAINER. All rights reserved.

-----

A near 50% increase in electric car sales during January pushed their market share ahead of both petrol and diesel and only behind hybrid options, new data from the Society of the Irish Motor ...

Recent data from the Central Statistics Office (CSO) reveals a significant surge in electric vehicle (EV) registrations in Ireland, pointing to a shifting landscape in the nation's automotive market.

Electric cars have hit their highest-ever share of the new car market. EV sales account for 18.4 per cent of new cars this year, exceeding the previous high in 2023.

EV sales in Ireland are rebounding in 2025 after a sharp 2024 decline, driven by new models & regional growth, but infrastructure and policy challenges remain.

Environmental priorities, running cost savings and improved range push EV adoption higher across Ireland's changing automotive market. Ireland's move toward electric mobility is ...

New figures from the Society of the Irish Motor Industry (SIMI) show that a total of 7,319 new electric cars were registered in January, a jump of 48.7% on the same time last year and the ...

Electric vehicle registrations surged to 23,601 units, representing a 35.1 percent increase year-on-year. BEVs now account for almost 19 percent of all new cars sold, a significant leap that ...

Discover Ireland's 2025 EV sales surge: 82% June growth and key incentives. What challenges remain for adoption? Explore trends and government strategies. Click for full analysis.

Website: <https://www.esafet.co.za>

