If you've received an offer for "free solar panels," it could be a scam. Always look for businesses you can trust - like Accredited Businesses using the BBB Seal.

How the scam works: People posing as solar installers or utility employees call or come to your home and offer free solar panels through made-up government programs or incentives. ...

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of ...

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of them may offer to install a solar panel or solar roof in your home for a small cost or even for free. It's an intentionally misleading claim.

It doesn't matter what they're selling--a new roof, driveway repaving, tree trimming, or solar panels--never hire someone who shows up at your door. You have no way of knowing who ...

Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you? Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or ...

The Federal Trade Commission is getting tired of dealing with all the solar panel scam complaints and warns consumers what to watch out for.
